Rav Papi

(d. 5th Century)

BRIEFING

Rav Papi (or Rav Pappai; Hebrew: רב פפי) was a Babylonian rabbi, of the fifth generation of amoraim.

BIOGRAPHY

Rav Papi was the son-in-law of Rabbi Isaac Nappaha, while his main rabbi was Rava, and he repeats many teachings in Rava's name. He was a colleague and an opponent of Rav Papa and Rav Huna b. Joshua. His students include Rav Ashi and Ravina I.